

CITY OF ANAHEIM
MAYOR TOM TAIT

June 26, 2011

Orange County Symphony
Anaheim, CA

To All Attendees:

It is my distinct pleasure to welcome everyone to the Orange County Symphony's Concert, "Saint Saens Meets Mahler," at the Servite Theater Auditorium. This will be a memorable evening of entertainment featuring Maestro Anthony Parnter as Conductor and Lynn Czae on the piano.

I greatly appreciate the dedication and unwavering commitment of the Orange County Symphony to musical excellence, bringing quality classical, pops and family concerts to our community year round. As the resident symphony orchestra for Anaheim, I applaud your efforts to showcase instrumentalists through prestigious music programs that enhance cultural life and provide music education in Anaheim and the greater Orange County community. We are very fortunate to have not only the Orange County Symphony to enjoy, but also the Orange County Wind Symphony and the Orange County Youth Wind Symphony ensembles, and I join many others in looking forward to the upcoming 2011-2012 concert season.

Tonight's performance is sure to delight and inspire residents of all ages, and I extend my sincere best wishes to the Orange County Symphony for continuing success in the years ahead.

Sincerely,

Tom Tait
Mayor
